

Points of Good Form. In answer to a correspondent. It is not proper to take a slice of bread, butter it, and then bite off a small piece of bread as you need it, butter it, and eat it from your fingers. All pastry is taken from a fork and it is an insult to the cook to touch it with a knife. In plain, take the stalk between your first finger and your thumb, dip the end of it into the dressing, and lay the part that is not eaten in a neat way at one side of your plate. In dressing, remember to hold your goblet or wine glass by the stem, and not by the bowl. While watermelon is eaten with a fork, cantaloupe has served with it a dessert spoon. In fact, your knife has no use except for cutting or buttering something, and when it is resting it should be laid sideways on your plate. Every vegetable can be eaten with a fork, the use of a spoon being limited to a few desserts such as your coffee or tea, and there is no place in your saucer. Cheese may be taken between the fingers, or it may be put on a piece of bread with a knife and eaten on that, but a fork is not used with it. Artichokes are, of course, eaten with the fingers, each leaf being dipped in the dressing.

white lining are pared off with a small fruit knife, the orange is stuck on a fork, and is eaten exactly as one would eat an apple. Bananas, celery, orange, asparagus, long-stemmed berries, and most all fruits are also eaten from the fingers. When one has had the dressing put on one side of your least, women really enjoy each other's company far more than man in his vanity will believe.

One of last season's debutantes has kept cuttings from all the bouquets which have been given her, and has given each tiny plant its donor's name. "I shall plant them all out of doors when they are big enough," she says, "and expect to have a regular rose garden in a few years."

And now society is in sackcloth and ashes. But what an elegant quality of sackcloth, and how it appears to fit. And the ashes? Are the ashes of roses, perhaps. This is the sentimental season with society. It is the only season when it has time to dwell upon its emotions.

Mrs. Cleveland objects to crinoline. Of course she does. It is pleasant to know that the first lady of the land sees no reason why women should return to the absurd fashions of 1841. Let the enterprising milliners who have been pushing the reactionary hoop take warning. The White House brie-a-brac is not to be knocked about by ten-yard-wide crinolines, and the ladies in the presidential social circle are not to be turned into the semblance of Dutch pin cushions. Mrs. Cleveland merits the gratitude of all lovers of aesthetic dress.—New York Morning Journal.

No good democratic woman will wear crinoline, even if Dame Fashion orders its adoption. Mrs. Cleveland, who should set the feminine democratic style, declares herself satisfied with the present cut of gowns, and says the garments now in the hands of her dressmaker are not to be made for the accommodation of hoops. Thus Mrs. Cleveland adds to the already general impression that she is a woman of excellent judgment and sound sense.—Troy Times.

A well-known belle uptown has been marking down the names of her gentleman friends who think women should follow the coming styles and wear crinoline. How many do you suppose she has? Two. If no dress to please men, as most of us do, then here is a relief by a vote from them against crinoline.—A woman in the Philadelphia Item.

Mrs. Cleveland has decided against crinoline and will wear none at the inaugural festivities. She would deserve a monument as high as Washington's if she could stop the invading horde.—Buffalo News.

"As for me," says Ward McAllister, "I can see a great deal to be commended in hoopskirts." Possibly, but it's the hoopskirts that are objected to.—Wheeling Register.

Mrs. Cleveland's inaugural dress will be made up without crinoline. Her husband's inaugural address will be made up the same way.—Boston Globe.

Mrs. Cleveland is opposed to the crinoline. We will back Mrs. Cleveland's opinion against Ward McAllister's every time.—Buffalo Enquirer.

Mrs. Cleveland will abjure crinoline, following in the sensible lead of the princess of Wales.—Philadelphia Record.

Deserving Praise. We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Peck Bros., Druggists.

Just the Thing. This is an expression the traveling public generally use when they find something that is exactly what they want. The expression applies directly to the Wisconsin Central line, which is now admitted by all to be "the Route" from Chicago to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Ashland, Duluth and all points in the northwest. Their double daily train service and fine equipment offers inducements which cannot be surpassed.

Proprietors of Dullam's Great German Remedies: I have for the past two years been troubled with a serious and very severe Liver and Stomach difficulty. Have had advice and medicine from our very best physicians and only to be temporarily relieved. Some of my friends persuaded me to try your Great German Remedy for the Blood, Stomach and Kidneys, and to my surprise, after using three bottles, I feel like a new man. If you desire you can use my name in print or by reference in any of the Grand Rapids, Michigan, papers, or any other papers in the states, to convince the afflicted that it is the best Blood, Liver and Kidney medicine on earth. I feel like a new man. Have lived here for over forty years.

Knowing that a cough can be checked in a day, and the first stages of consumption broken in a week, we hereby guarantee Dr. Acker's English Cough Remedy, and will refund the money to all who buy, take it as per directions, and do not find our statement correct.

My wife has been suffering with female trouble of the severest kind for over three years. I have paid $25 during the last three months and she had no relief. She had doctored continually with the best of physicians. I bought three bottles each of Dullam's Great German Female Uterine Tonic and Dullam's Great German Blood, Liver, Stomach and Kidney Cure and can say today that she is entirely cured. W. H. DROWLEY.

Sworn to before me on this 23rd day June, 1890. JOHN C. DULLAM, Notary Public, Genesee County, Flint, Mich.
